INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN TO SAVE FOOD HERE

Domestic Science Students at High School Being Taught How to Avoid Expensive Food Waste

Campaign Inaugurated by the Federal Food Administrator to Secure Members to Adopt This Policy

This week begins an intensive campaign under the auspices of the Federal Food Administrator in each state, for the purpose of securing members for the Food Administration.

These members are to receive a membership card and an instruction card showing how to eliminate waste and how to conserve the food supply.

This is especially being taught the domestic science classes presided over by Miss Elizabeth E. Sheldon, at the high school.

Why people should conserve food is made clear in the following:

The Allies need more wheat. England, France, Italy and Belgium taken together, import in peace time 40 per cent of their breadstuffs. Now, with a reduction in harvest, they must import 60 per cent.

More meat must be sent the Allies. The food animals of the Allies have decreased by 33,000,000 head since the war began; thus the source of their meat production is decreasing. At the same time, the needs of their soldiers and war workers have increased the necessary meat consumption. Meat exports to the Allies are almost three times what they were before the war. If America saves an ounce of meat per person per day the needs of the Allies can be met.

Butter and milk must be sent the Allies. Decreasing herds and lack of fodder means a steady falling off in the dairy products of the Allies. Last year America sent them three times as much butter and almost ten times as much condensed milk as before the war. America must hold to this level and even attempt to do better.

Sugar must be sent the Allies. Before the war France, Italy and Belgium produced sugar to meet their needs, and England drew most of its supply from what are now enemy countries. France, Italy and England now draw 1,500,000 tons more sugar than they did before the war.

Liquor Imports Legal. Washington, Oct. 23.—The solicitor of the treasury has decided that distilled spirits may be imported into the United States, notwithstanding the prohibition against such importation contained in the food bill. A section of the revenue bill passed nearly two months after the food bill, the solicitor held, repealed the prohibition of imports in the food bill. Acting under the solicitor's interpretation the Treasury department has instructed all customs collectors to release importations of distilled spirits held up.

BIG LOAN MAY FALL SHORT

Heavy Subscriptions Needed to Reach Goal Wanted.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Treasury officials announced that reports reaching the department of Liberty Loan subscriptions throughout the nation during the day were not of a character "to warrant confidence that the $5,000,000,000 maximum quota desired will be achieved."

Virtually on the eve of the campaign's finish it appears that the total will fall short of the huge sum set as the country's goal. Only an avalanche of dollars can bring the lists up to the full maximum quota.

Liberty day, officials assert, will do much toward bringing the goal nearer, but Liberty day will not do it all. The remaining three and one-half days, they assert, must be days of the most strenuous endeavor and big results if the total runs to $5,000,000,000.

Indications from increases shown by the latest official report of sales and such scattering unofficial estimates on the day's business as trickled into the Treasury department are that the $2,000,000,000 mark has been well passed, says the Treasury's announcement last night, "and that possibly $2,250,000,000 has been subscribed."

Winnetka Citizens to Poison "Kaiser." Chicago, Oct. 23.—Citizens of Winnetka threaten to poison the Kaiser. Miss Margaret Hayes explained she named the dog Kaiser because "he destroys everything he could get hold of."

SENATOR HUSTING

Wisconsin colon fatally wounded while hunting with brother.

United States Senator Paul O. Husting died at a farmhouse at Picketts, Wis., late Sunday night, after being accidentally shot in the back by his brother while hunting ducks at Rush Lake. Senator Husting had sighted a flock of ducks and called to his brother to fire and at the discharge of the shotgun he raised slightly, receiving the full charge of the shotgun in his back.

German Troops Counter Blow Against British

(By United Press)

London, Oct. 23.—German troops made a successful counter blow against one of the new British posts in the southern portion of Houlthout wood and forcing the British to fall back a short distance, Gen. Haig reports. The German assault came early and the counter blow is the first the enemy has struck in the two British drives.

German "Pill Box" Watching Post

This German "pill box" watching post is one of their latest developments in the war. It shows a cement and steel tube within sight of the enemy lines, built so strongly that it must be struck by the heaviest cannon to destroy it. The watcher can close the heavy steel door, and be immune from injury of ordinary fire.

Germany Endeavoring Gain Separate Peace by Russian Smashes

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 23.—Germany's new Russian smashes means chiefly that she is trying to gain a separate Russian peace while at the same time she is trying to cheer the flagging spirits of her own people. That is the view Secretary Baker and other high officials advance. The Russian diplomats here are assured that there will be no separate peace while Secretary Baker declares that the German drive lengthens the lines of communication which get the main man forces and which will be ultimately weakened. The Flanders drive more than offsets the eastern successes of the Teutons, and Gen. Haig's attacks will continue all winter in an effort to shatter the German line and shake German stamina. The weakening of the morale is evidenced by the growing number of deserters reaching the allied lines.

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 23.—Civilians rendered desperate by food shortage have recently blown up several Austrian munitions depots, official Rome cables state. Berne advices declare that the Austrian-Swiss frontier is closed on account of political disorders in Austria.

Young French Airman Takes Airship Crew

(By United Press)

Bourbonne Les Bains, France, Oct. 23.—A 21 year old French airman single handed forced Zeppelin L-49 to descend on French soil and at the point of a revolver captured the crew of over a score before they could destroy their airship.

American Flyers Today in Action Attack on Aisne

With the French Armies in the Field, Oct. 23.—The Lafayette escadrille of American flyers is participating today in an attack on the Aisne which is being delivered in great force by the French. This is the first intimation of what appears to be a general attack by the French along the Aisne.

French Achieve Great Victory

(By United Press)

Paris, Oct. 23.—French troops have achieved one of the most important victories of recent months fighting when they swept forward for nearly two miles over a front of practically two-thirds of a mile capturing Allement, Vaudeuse and Malmalson Fort. The drive is announced as the most important success for months, 3,900 German prisoners were taken and 29 cannon.

MINUTE MEN ARE BUSY

Judge W. F. Wieland Gave Spirited Liberty Loan Talk Last Evening

—Rep. Swanson Tonight

The Four Minute Men speakers are putting up a lively campaign in the interests of the Liberty Bond sale and patrons of the Best theatre as well as members of lodges and different organizations are hearing some pertinent truth, told in plain, emphatic language relative to the opportunity offered the public in the purchase of government bonds.

Harold Webb made a talk to the audience at the Best on Saturday evening and told some plain truths regarding Liberty bonds.

Judge W. F. Wieland spoke at the Best theatre last evening and made the most of the four minutes allotted him. He is a plain, convincing speaker, well versed with the subject and made a good impression on the audience. This evening, Representative Hilding A. Swanson will speak at the Best theatre between reels, he having been drafted as one of the four-minute men speakers.

George D. LaBar has been in almost constant service and is making addresses in different parts of the city at the request of organizations who seek first-hand information from one who is perhaps the best posted man in the city on the subject.

R. R. Gould spoke at the Eastern Star meeting last evening and in his customary convincing manner created a keener interest in Liberty Bonds and the government's call for purchasers of the same.

W. H. Crowell will be "on the firing line" in the near future and will be one of the speakers the latter part of the week. The work of the four-minute men is attracting much attention and is proving a valuable auxiliary to the sale of Liberty Bonds.

MEN PROVED HEROES

Crew of Torpedoed U. S. Destroyer Save Their Ship.

With Vessel Badly Damaged They Continue Fight and Compel U-Boat to Submerge.

Washington, Oct. 23.—The American destroyer which had an engagement in the war zone with a German submarine and got to port under its own steam after being damaged, was the U. S. S. Cassin, according to official announcement just made.

The Cassin was torpedoed Oct. 16, while on patrol duty.

Gunnery Mate Killed.

Gunnery Mate Osmond Kelly Ingram of Pratt City, Ala., was killed by being blown overboard by the explosion and his body never recovered. Five others were injured but not seriously.

The Cassin was commanded by Lieutenant Commander Walter H. Vernou.

While the vessel was on its patrol station a submarine was sighted about five miles distant. The destroyer immediately proceeded at full speed toward the U-boat, with its crew at battle stations. After searching the area for about half an hour, zigzagging back and forth, Commander Vernou sighted a torpedo about 400 yards away, headed to strike the Cassin amidships. He rang for emergency full speed ahead on both engines, put the rudder hard over and was just clear of the torpedo's course when it broached on the surface, turned sharply towards the vessel and struck the stern of the Cassin, disabling one engine.

U-Boat Forced to Submerge.

The destroyer remained under way and continued searching for the submarine. After about an hour the U-boat exposed its conning tower long enough for the Cassin to fire four shots. Two fell so close to the submarine that it was forced to submerge and was not seen again. The Cassin continued the search until dark and then proceeded to port after being joined by other British and American patrol boats.

Vice Admiral William S. Sims in his report, states the behavior of the officers and the entire crew was admirable.

Dispatch advertising reaches all of Brainerd and the county beyond. The Daily has a large city circulation and reaches many rural routes and mining towns. The Weekly Dispatch does not duplicate your list but reaches a brand new number of prosperous farmers and people of the villages of the county and surrounding counties. These are the days when people read the ads, and good live store news, prices on food, clothing, etc., are read with deepest interest. Advertising of the newspapers has been a great factor in the sale of the Liberty bonds.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Publication is herewith made of the five classifications into which men awaiting draft will be divided, under the new regulations approved by President Wilson, and which have become public much before the time planned by the provost marshal general's office.

Viewpoint of Undergraduate.

I find that there is a cause for the lack of individuality in undergraduate theses, a cause other than the mere absence of ideas in undergraduates. It may be traced even to the door of classrooms and to the chairs of college professors. For, in college, literature is not a thing of the spirit, but of the mind and you will encounter above the door of the English department the scholar's first and last commandment: "Beware of your emotions." There is no escape for those who enter, so have done with your adolescence, which has given you to understand beauty and freshness of phrase. You are face to face now with form, with technique and with the history of literature.—Atlantic.

His Amazing Eccentricity.

"It takes all kinds of people to make up a world, and I shore had one of 'em here day before yesterday," admitted the landlord of the Petunia tavern. "He was from Kansas City, and yet, when I asked him what he thought of our little burg he replied that it impressed him favorably. Then he stopped and I waited, but he didn't say another word on the subject. The strange part about him was that although he came from a big town he didn't seem to think that fact gave him a license to criticize everything in a little town and tell its inhabitants how to run their own affairs."—Kansas City Star.

A YUKON PLAY

"The Flame of the Yukon" Thrills Theatre Goers at Best Theatre, Shown Again Tonight

"The Flame of the Yukon" thrilled theatre goers at the Best theatre Monday evening and large crowds are expected tonight, last day of the engagement.

Dorothy Dalton played the part of the woman of the dance hall who through the love of a man is brought to a higher plane. The scenes are laid in the Yukon mining territory and are replete with the primeval strength and free hearted manner of the early mining camp.

Morality in those days included a code which made even a gambler a square man, providing he conformed to the rules of the game. "The Flame of the Yukon" had her niche in society and a high one at that, regardless of the trade she plied.

Many a man in those days sweat in the mines, shoveled at the clean-up and then spent his thousand or more wages at the gaming table or dance hall and was lucky if he got back to his job with a new pair of overalls.

It was a great life and "The Flame of the Yukon" gives you pages of the early days of Nome and the Yukon in graphic manner. You see a bar room fight on the screen, really a safer place than had you been in the mixup yourself.

"When Dreams Come True"

"When Dreams Come True," which will be seen at the Brainerd opera house Saturday evening, October 27, is heralded as a dainty musical comedy of youth.

Philip Bartholomae, who is responsible for the book and lyrics, is the apostle of youth on the American stage; and his success has confirmed him in the belief that he is wise, in this he has found many who agree with him, because the characteristics of youth are pleasing.

"When Dreams Come True," is built around a tangible plot, but it is not a plot so aggressively brought forward that it interrupts one's pleasure in the many songs and dances, and the fun that surrounds it. It seems hardly necessary to describe the plot here, more than to say that it is sufficient for the purpose, and carries one through a series of entanglements and solutions flimsy enough to satisfy the tired business man. In the course of its working out, much melodious music is heard, while the principals and chorus are engaged in agreeable dancing numbers as well.

The music is by Silvio Hein, and is melodious and pleasing. Among the many hits that should linger in the memory are "Dear World," "When Dreams Come True," "Love is Such a Funny Little Feeling," "The Town That Grows Where the Hudson Flows," and many others.

The company is perfect in every particular, while there is no particular star to feature; the scenery is adequate in every way and the costuming exquisite.

Measures Speed of Clouds.

The comb nephoscope is a device for measuring the speed of clouds. It consists of an upright brass rod about nine feet long, bearing at its upper end a crosspiece to which a number of equidistant vertical spikes are attached. The observer turns the crosspiece until the cloud appears to travel along the line of spikes and notes the time it takes to pass from spike to spike. This forms a basis from which he reckons the speed.

Rattlers and Their Fangs.

There are four principal kinds of rattlers: Black diamond, mountain, prairie, and Texas. As is commonly known, every kind of rattler is poisonous. At the age of two months the first set of fangs appear. If these are removed, two more sets come, nine days apart. If the third set is removed the rattler is said to be "fixed," and no more fangs appear, consequently the snake is not dangerous.

Making a Home a Home.

In planning a home it is essential to building satisfaction that the prospective house owner decides whether he wants to dwell in his own or some other person's home; that he decide just the sort of home he wishes to erect and follow those plans, also that he build his house on honest lines that conform to the principles of good architecture.

That Discouraged Him.

An exchange asks: "What has become of the old-fashioned doctor who used to write, 'Take a heaping dimeful of this powder three times a day?' We fancy, brother, he was knocked out by the old Irishman who, not having a dime handy, loaded up a nickel twice and nearly croaked.—Boston Transcript.

Original Styles in Tailored Suits

"Brilliant" is the word that best fits the new styles in tailored suits, however sedate the colors may be, in which these suits are developed. Besides the glove shades—beige, brown, tan, castor, taupe—there are rich tones of wine, Russian green, beet root, and amethyst, all at their best in the soft surfaces of fashionable weaves in wool. It seems that costumers cannot think of them without at the same time thinking of fur; for fur is everywhere on tailored suits and put on in the most original ways.

Everything conspires to make this season's formal suit an unqualified success, because the character of the new fabrics, their colors and fashionable trimmings are so well suited to one another. Designers appear to revel in them and have given us creations this fall that more than justify the loyalty of American women to the tailored suit. Just one of many beautiful new models is pictured here, but it will convince the fortunate woman of today that the best art of the costumes is at her service. It is of Russian green broadcloth trimmed with French seal convertible collar and buttons and would be equally rich in amethyst, beetroot, taupe or wine. It is an achievement to be proud of and a possession to rejoice in, now that it is fashionable to be busy and nearly all our days are spent in street clothes. The skirt is quite plain and that term might also be used to describe the coat in which the tailor has relied upon originality of design and beautiful adjustment to the figure for the distinction he has given the finished garment.

Julia Bottomley

The Long Coat.

Much opportunity is given to the imagination of the designers by the long coat of the autumn. For this coat gives space for most interesting decorative treatment. One new model is bound with fur. The underarm seams are slashed up almost to the waist. The fur binding outlines these slashes, but is not used up the front of the coat. Thus a panel-like effect is produced in spite of the fact that the coat opens directly down the front. Although pockets are not so much used as they were last year, still some of the new models show huge pockets on these long skirt portions of the coats.

Bottle Skirts Are Shown.

The woman who goes in for the extreme will accept the bottle skirt; a few of these were displayed recently in Paris, some gathered into broad fur bands around the bottom, others showed the effect attained by laying the skirt in fine plaits at intervals and substituting a cloth band for the fur. These skirts measured only two yards around.

Hundreds Starving In Poland and Lithuania, Is Report.

Children Dying on Streets of Warsaw Declares Commission Investigating Conditions.

New York, Oct. 23.—Hundreds of persons are literally starving to death in the streets of Warsaw and other cities in Poland Lithuania, according to cablegram reaching here from the American legation at Copenhagen through the state department.

The provisional executive committee for general Zionist affairs, which received the message, announced it would place the situation before the president.

The cablegram informs the Zionists that a commission from the municipality of Warsaw arrived at Copenhagen for the purpose of requesting the president to issue a special appeal to the American people for help. The cablegram reads, in part:

Children Die on Streets.

"The Warsaw commission reports that the situation in Poland and Lithuania is desperate. Mortality from diseases and epidemics progressing horribly. There are frequent instances of old men and women and young children dying on the streets from starvation. Entente armies suffer great misery.

"The only thing that can save the population is the creation of a relief action similar to that taken in behalf of Belgium. The humane feelings of the noble American people and of their great president is the last hope of this helpless, starving people, whom it implores shall treat them as they treat Belgians.

Relief Action Sought.

"The commission hopes to obtain from the Entente the necessary guarantees which will enable the American people to send relief and states it has prospects of obtaining the necessary tonnage to bring salvation to them."

BUTCHER WOMEN ON NORSE SHIPS

Raiders Fire Ruthlessly on Attacked Merchantmen and Life Boats.

DEATH REPLY TO PLEA

Germans Fire Volley at Women Who Wave White Cloth—No Effort Made to Spare Lives in North Sea.

Stockholm, Oct. 23.—Two German cruisers and three torpedo boats fired ruthlessly on Scandinavian merchantmen and subsequently on their lifeboats, according to newspaper accounts of the attack by German raiders on convoys in the North sea. No effort was made to spare the lives of the seamen.

Fought Single Handed.

London, Oct. 23.—The British destroyer Mary Rose fought single handed against the German cruisers in the convoy section in the North sea according to a story ascribed to a British officer rescued off Bergen and transmitted by the Christiania correspondent of The Times. The other destroyer, which should have been present, never appeared, and it is thought likely that it was destroyed at the beginning of the action.

Butchery Undescribable.

After fighting heroically for half an hour during which she was subjected to the most terrific concentric fire, the Mary Rose sank. Ten members of the crew were rescued.

The correspondent says that the reports of the butchery of those aboard the merchantmen pass description. Two women on one ship waved a piece of white cloth which was perfectly visible. They were silenced by a volley from the German cruiser.

I. W. W. Promise That or Dynamite at Banquet.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—Threats to turn the banquet in honor of Congressman Julius Kahn into a "poison feast," such as Jean Crone plotted in Chicago a few years ago, have been received by prominent San Franciscans in charge of the affair, it is learned.

United States Circuit Judge W. W. Morrow, who is to be toastmaster at the banquet, turned over to the federal secret service men a letter received by him, which read:

"We will get you by poison or dynamite if you attend the banquet."

The letter was written in red ink. At the top were the letters "I. W. W." and at the bottom a skull and crossbones, crudely drawn.

Similar letters are reported to have been received by United States Senator Phelan, Major General MacMurray, Benjamin Ide Wheeler and others.

ANOTHER HEARING FOR ROADS

Request for 15 Per Cent Raise in Rates to Be Heard.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Railroads of the Eastern district will have another opportunity on November 5 in Washington to convince the Interstate Commerce commission they should have a 15 per cent increase in freight rates. The 15 per cent case has not been closed, the commission last night advised the railroads, through their attorney, George Stuart Patterson of Philadelphia.

War conditions must be met, the commission held, and if the railroads need more money to meet them, they are least entitled to a hearing.

Candy Men's Allotment Reduced.

Boston, Oct. 23.—One of the largest local sugar refineries has begun converting into the market product more than 7,000,000 pounds of raw sugar received last week. An official of the plant said that candy manufacturers would receive only about one-fourth of their customary allotment. The entire amount will be available in two weeks.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—Members of the Federal Shipbuilding Labor Adjustment board are in San Francisco to draw up a permanent wage and work scale for the 30,000 metal trades workers here who recently called off a strike, pending adjudication of their demands. The board last week employed 17,000 striking shipyard employees in Seattle to consent to return to work, and an effort will be made to frame an agreement acceptable to employers and employees of all Pacific coast shipping yards.

Beware the "Jack-of-All Trades."

The "jack-of-all-trades" known familiarly as the handy man, is a serious drawback to the industries of the United States, because his knowledge and training are not based on the fundamental rules of any craft. Such men are the bane of any industry and more especially of high-grade machine shops, for their work cannot be relied upon. Doubtless it is a good thing to know something about everything, but the perfect mechanic and high-grade foreman is the man who knows everything about something.—George W. Bowie, in Industrial Management.

Surprised Justice.

In a New England town a local celebrity was brought up before the justice for stealing chickens. The prisoner was noted for never telling the truth when he could help it, and consequently there was general surprise when he pleaded guilty. It evidently staggered the justice. He rubbed his glasses and then scratched his head. "I guess—I'm afraid—well, Hiram," said he after a thoughtful pause, "I guess I'll have to have more evidence before I sentence you."—Case and Comment.

Garlic Almost a Panacea.

Garlic "seems to be swinging into therapeutic favor," remarks the Medical Record, in commenting on how American physicians and chemists have awakened to a desire for a return to nature's own remedies, after many years of ignominious dependence upon German patented chemicals. Garlic is now used as a remedy for diphtheria, whooping cough, typhoid fever and tuberculosis.

The Thrills of Youth.

After all, the joys of youth are fairly well distributed between the sexes and, while a girl does not know the thrill that comes when one gets into one's first pair of long pants, though even that may fall to her lot before long now, on the other hand a boy doesn't know what it is to be a girl and walk around town with a soldier in uniform where the other girls can see.—Ohio State Journal.

Difficult Language.

An intelligent Frenchman was studying the English language. "When I discovered that if I was tied I was fast, if I spent too freely I was fast, and that not to eat was to fast, I was discouraged. But when I came across the sentence, 'the first one won one guinea prize,' I was tempted to give up trying to learn English."

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars off any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by all's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

DISPATCH TOBACCO IN NICE KITS

Window Display of the Kits at the Brainerd Daily Dispatch Office Attracts Notice

TOBACCO FUND NOW OVER $245

Each Kit Carries Name of "Brainerd Dispatch." Reads Like a Message From Home

A window display attracting attention is that of the Brainerd Daily Dispatch Tobacco Fund, the fifty or more kits bearing the name "Brainerd Dispatch Tobacco Fund."

It will be like a message from home when the boys on the front in Europe get one of these. Old soldiers looked at it with interest and said a present like that would have been a godsend to either side in the civil war when Yank and Johnny Reb often ran out of tobacco and for days had no smoke to cheer them in muddy marches, wet trenches or sun-baked days when the commissary department stuck in the mud or was shot to pieces by the other fellow.

The Brainerd Daily Dispatch Tobacco Fund has now scaled the $245 mark and is still climbing upward.

Tobacco is like an ever-welcoming host when comrades foregather for a few hours of rest from their long vigils in the trenches. It is when pipes are lighted or cigarettes are glowing like fireflies in the watches of the night, in some deep down shelter, that men return to their humanity.

It's the same with sailors the globe around. Whatever happens, the tobacco must be kept right. It was only a few months ago that when a great warship was torpedoed by a German U-boat the crew went to their quarters in exact order and took to the water each with a cigarette behind his right ear! No time to read any books or space to gather any belongings like trinkets or other keepsakes.

With the white clouds in the trenches come the merry jest and the rousing song. Tobacco is a cheery camouflage which conceals the woes of the soldier from himself and screens not the vision of a brighter tomorrow.

But with the brothers of the Victory Push the leaves of solace have eased the agony of the wounded and made possible the bearing intense suffering in patience. The influence of tobacco, be it more on the mind than on the body if you will have it so, is none the less great when the body is tortured by pain.

Frequently men have undergone amputations, fully conscious and with only cigarettes or cigars to palliate the pain. The wounded on the other side are often asked if they would rather have an injection of morphine or some tobacco, and many of them say "The smoke!"

The ambulanciers pass along the rows of victims of war and rapidly put cartridges of joy between their lips, which relax into a gladdening smile of thanks. These men who went so valorously over the top to be brought back to the dressing station or the base hospital, betray no sign of murmuring over the fortunes of war, but how their faces shine with appreciation when they get the aroma of welcome fumes!

Our army regulars who have just landed in France have their favorite brands and know how to make the most of their chances for smoking. Just as the men of the Revolution, who fought before the days of cartridges, were enjoined to keep their powder dry, so these sons of Mars see to it that no dampness injures their precious tobacco. If, however, that ill luck does befall, into the creases of their campaign hats is the mixture poured and then pinned, and so along hard and rough roads, often with a tropical sun broiling overhead, they march along until the contents of the pouch are once more dry.

OTHER PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Evolution

(A Criticism by Lars Ericsson)

The book, "The Harmonics of Evolution," is as far above Darwin as the high school is above kindergarten. Darwin gave to the world many new conceptions of physical evolution, but he failed entirely in his conclusions, because he had no information of the most important factor of all, namely, the spiritual side of nature, that side which permeates all physical material and gives it life.

In my opinion, Dr. Bromley failed to give any evidence or any arguments for, or against, evolution as a fact in nature. In main, he took his time in quoting other scientists' criticisms on Darwin's conclusions. In that, I fully agree with the speaker, but that subject, I thought, was disposed of at least 25 years ago. Had the speaker taken time to study the book above referred to, he would have had something of real value to say on the subject in the light of the most important discoveries.

Evolution is a fact in nature. But as the subject is one which must, naturally, change many other conceptions, or misconceptions, of the human mind in order to avoid confusion or a dismissal of the subject it requires an example to show how misconceptions of any fact hinders the human intelligence in its search for truths and facts.

The most important one is, perhaps, the narrow conception of God. The over-zealous preacher and over-religious scientist with a childish conception of God, cannot possibly accept the fact of evolution because in doing so, he must eliminate HIS God from creation and from the world. To do so would mean to eliminate that which is nearest and dearest to his heart. With his conception of God he logically thinks, "If evolution is a fact, if nature evolves itself with some kind of an inherent life force, we have no use for God, therefore, evolution cannot possibly be a fact in nature."

But this does not dispose of the subject. When Galileo found that the world was round and traveled around the sun, the leaders of the church in his time said: "This is a dangerous doctrine. If that is true the bible can't be true and God and the gospel would be in danger, hence, death to Galileo." History repeats itself in all ages. Galileo was right and the church was wrong. And still the bible is read, and still God is in his world, and still men are saved by the same natural process as they were in that time. History glows with the facts of progress in human conceptions. This, in itself, is one evidence that evolution is a fact in nature.

As a rule, the so-called religious people hold the bible to be the highest authority on the problems of nature and life. What kind of interpretation do they give to the phrase of St. Paul when he wrote, "God is all and in all." This seems to indicate that St. Paul's conception of God was in strict harmony with the conceptions of all thinkers who accept evolution as a fact in nature.

In connection with this, will mention that I have just written a definition of God as I conceive him, and which is in harmony with St. Paul's idea, as well as the already discovered facts of evolution. Will ask the editor of the Dispatch to print the same at his convenience.

Dr. Bromley divides the universe in two parts, calling them, the natural and the supernatural. This is the main point in which we differ with him. If he had said, the known and the unknown in nature, I would have had no essential criticism to make.

The whole universe must be governed by laws "the same yesterday, today and forever." The whole of it is DIVINE, one part as divine as any other part, because it is all God's; because it is all created by God; because all of it is manifestations of God. In making these statements, the question is often asked: "How about the evil?" The answer is, that everything in nature is good, but that man has been given God-like powers, divine powers so great that he can act independently in doing good or evil. If the reader of this will think this out, he will find that all great crimes committed in this world are committed by the powers given him by God. Hence, the moral law; hence, personal responsibility; hence, retribution for their misuse and compensation or nature's reward for their right use. A normal man is, therefore, in this world as well as in the next, the arbiter of his own destiny.

This conception of God and nature will dispose of the controversies about the divinity of Jesus, and other topics in connection therewith. It will help to give a reasonable interpretation of scripture and be an inspiration to search for the facts about that wonderful Hebrew character. The man who still is satisfied with the theology formulated in the third century without any kind of criticism, cannot possibly help the world to higher conceptions of life and nearer the truth.

That, we call "Miracle" is not a violation of natural laws nor even a suspension of the same. It is phenomena created by the control of natural forces, unknown to men in general, but known to the performer who may be willing to exhibit the same. But Miracles are twofold—good and evil; both are caused by the same knowledge and control of natural forces. In past ages it was called white and black magic. Do not confuse this with the modern slight-of-hand performances.

The principle under which nature is refined and evolves from lower to higher life and types is the sex principle—"That principle in nature which impels every entity to seek vibratory correspondence with another like entity of opposite polarity."

TO BE NO STOP IN ALLIED DRIVE

Secretary Baker Believes Advantage Gained Is to Be Pushed All Winter.

ENEMY MORALE IS LOW

U. S. Soldiers in France, After Three Months' Training Are in Splendid Condition and Efficient Fighting Trim.

Washington, Oct. 23.—It is the expectation of military experts here that winter will not halt the great Allied drive against the Germans in Flanders.

Secretary Baker's weekly review of war operations discloses the belief of the War department that potency of material and men will enable the British and French commanders to triumph over natural obstacles and continue forcing the enemy backward without waiting for spring.

Sammies in Fine Trim.

The review touches for the first time upon the American expeditionary forces in France, declaring the men, after three months' intensive training, are in efficient fighting trim and splendid physical condition.

The War Secretary declares it apparent that the German high command planned the recent expedition against the Russians in the Riga sector to bolster up morale and meet impending internal difficulties. By extending her lines in the East, he adds, Germany has merely added to the length of her line of communications and increased confidence in the final allied victory.

Text of Review in Part.

Secretary Baker's review for the week ending October 20, in part follows:

"Our men in France, after three months intensive training, are in splendid physical condition and efficient fighting trim.

"They have readily become acclimated and now feel at home in the war zone.

"Our troops have met with the most warm-hearted and enthusiastic reception on the part of the armies and people of France.

"The health of our men overseas is reported as excellent.

"The week just closed has been one of relative quiet on all fronts.

Morale Aim of German Coup.
"The full importance of the battle in Flanders is beginning to be revealed. In order to appreciate the real significance of this engagement and the effect it has had on the morale of the German army and the German people, we must consider briefly the German attacks in the Riga sector, including the capture of Oesel, Dagoo and other minor islands of the Finnish gulf.

Saving Food.

"Drink to me only with thine eyes" —so said the poet."

She—That sounds all right, but I don't know how much the compliment is worth until you tell me how many pretty girls you have seen.

SEED CORN AS A STOCK FOOD

Problems Before Minnesota Farmers This Fall.

Animal Husbandry Specialists At University Farm Offer Suggestions for Its Solution.

(Prepared by the animal industry group, University Farm, and issued by the State Food Committee for the Public Safety Commission.)

The condition of field corn caused by early frosts makes it necessary for many Minnesota farmers to consider the feeding of soft corn to livestock this fall. As an aid in such feeding, specialists of the animal industry group of the Minnesota Experiment Station offer the following suggestions:

Soft corn, aside from that required for silage or fodder corn, is best fed in the field both because this saves labor and because soft corn does not crib well.

Feed the softest corn first because it is less satisfactory to feed in hard (freezing weather and because it is too bulky for good results in finishing off stock. Save the ripest corn for finish feeding.

Soft Corn for Cattle.

Where there is much soft corn the cattle may be allowed to pasture it down. The rest should be saved for winter roughage. If it is intended to put flesh on the cattle as soon as possible, they may be left in the corn all day. If not, two hours a day is sufficient. Clover or mixed hay should be allowed with the corn. Soft corn along with other roughage will put cattle in fair flesh. Cattle weighing more than 950 pounds do better than lighter cattle on such feed. Soft corn alone will not make finished beef, but it will carry the cattle through the winter in good shape.

Soft Corn for Hogs.

At first allow an acre to ten hogs—more or less according to yield. Unless the corn is down badly, the hogs may be turned in at once as they will get little green corn the first day or two. The farmer who hasn't enough hogs should pick up some thin shots.

Save the solid corn, mill feed, etc., for finishing off. If the corn is very soft or poor a light dry feed may be given once a day, as corn in the milk stage carries about one part of protein or muscle-forming material to seven parts of fat forming material, while in the mature corn the proportion is about one to nine or ten. Less protein (milk, tankage, oil meal, etc.) is needed to balance the soft corn ration.

Keep salt, salt and ashes, or salt and slacked coal within reach of the pigs.

This week marks the close of the tabernacle campaign in Brainerd. The big, familiar building will soon be a thing of the past and what has been accomplished will be a part of the religious history of the city. Many people will have a great affection stored up in their memory for that rude shelter for it has marked the beginning of a new and happier life either for themselves or some members of their families. The rude altar at the front, at the end of the trail, has witnessed many a penitential tear and listened to the words of high purpose spoken there. Dark chapters in scores of lives have been closed forever and the pages of the book have come clean because "the blood of Christ cleanseth from all sin."

This week is going to mark the climax of things and each night is full of importance. Do not miss a single one of them but mark the closing week with your presence each night. Tonight the ball is started rolling with as great a theme of interest as can be found in the book from God—the second coming of Christ.

The dark days in which we are living with the breaking down of the world wide morality and the freakishness of seasons and weather combine to make men expect something supernatural to happen. There is a nameless something that is vaguely anticipated and this translated in the language of the Christian may very likely be the nearness of the advent of Christ. This sermon has attracted great interest in places where Dr. Bromley has given it in the past and it is believed that the tabernacle will be filled tonight.

It is young men's night and all the young men and those who feel young, are going to parade through the street and down to the tabernacle. They have made preparation for this meeting and are counting on having

MODERN WOODMEN SHOW PATRIOTISM

Do Their Bit for Soldiers of the Order at the Front by Guaranteeing in Full the

PAYMENT OF ALL POLICIES

And Will Also Pay the Dues Where Dependents Notify Them They Are Unable to Do So

At a recent meeting of Camp Number 2337 M. W. A. of this city an amount equivalent to $2000 per year was appropriated to guarantee the payment in full of the policies carried by members who lose their lives in the service of the United States in the present war. As nearly all insurance policies read that the insurance is void if the insured goes to war, the M. W. A. should be given due credit for an innovation of this kind, especially as they have some on record that they will also pay the dues and assessments of all members at the front if their dependents notify the Camp that they are unable to pay them. At the present time the Brainerd Camp is carrying upwards of a million dollars worth of insurance and is one of the strongest fraternal orders of the city, and its example should be followed by all fraternal orders. It should certainly be a relief to the members of the M. W. A. who go to the front to know that their dependents ones will not have to suffer thru their patriotism to their country. This is a universal movement of all M. W. A. Camps of the United States and Canada, and as the membership consists of over a million men, who were obliged to pass a most rigid physical examination before being admitted to the order, it will mean that the M. W. A. will be well represented in the war, and as most of its members have had more or less military training on its foresters or degree teams they ought to make a creditable showing.

YOUNG MEN'S NIGHT

Twenty Foot Banner Over Chorus Reads "Brainerd Young Men for Christ"

A great time is promised tonight at the tabernacle. A number of young men will march from the Y. M. C. A., stopping at a few downtown places giving short song services. A flash-light and flag stunt is planned; patriotism is man's second nature.

Everybody is welcome to this service. Dr. Bromley's subject will be "The Second Coming of Christ."

A twenty-foot banner above the chorus reads "Brainerd Young Men for Christ."

American Academy of Political and Social Science Meets There on November 2 and 3

Correspondence now being carried on by Senator George H. Gardner for the purpose of holding the Minnesota Tax Conference which he was largely instrumental in originating, and the County Auditors Association gathering at the same time, is meeting with favorable responses from county auditors.

E. M. Berg, secretary of the Auditors' Association, is heartily in favor of the joint meeting. He is taking up the plan with county auditors. The usual date of the auditors meeting is the third Tuesdays and Wednesdays in January of each year. However, that may be postponed to suit the convenience of the Minnesota Tax Conference, writes Mr. Berg. The American Academy of Political and Social Science will hold a taxation conference November 2 and 3 in Philadelphia. Speakers include some of the best taxation authorities in the country. Senator Gardner and other members of the Minnesota Tax Conference have been invited to attend.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES OF TODAY

F. S. Workman was down in the cities and heard this one on Ole Johnson who came directly from the forests in Sweden to a lumber camp in Northern Minnesota. On a recent trip to Minneapolis he saw the moving pictures for the first time in his life.

"You just bet Ay had good time," he said, relating his experience back at camp, "and would you believe, Ay vent in yun place where dey squirt pictures on de wall."

Nice slam at Brainerd! It happened at a meeting of Crosby and Ironton "White Way" enthusiasts, when the purchase of lamp posts for 15 blocks was discussed. Conduits are now being laid that distance.

One man got up and said: "Let's make Brainerd an offer for its lamp posts. That town has a lot of posts and isn't using them."

These are the days when the head of the house gets out ladder, storm windows, screw drivers, screws, etc., and puts up the windows and lays off every time the wind blows strong. All the argument in the world and reference to calendars, etc., won't remove the fact that the weather is cold and that Brainerd and vicinity have been cheated out of a bunch of Indian summer.

Newspaper men are said to make good scouts in war time. They seldom fall down on an assignment and cover things in good shape. They manage to get an eye full and an ear full and take but few notes. They have faced so much hell that a brush or two with the enemy is no worse than facing an irate subscriber.

Job was outcome in patience by Fred T. Lincoln. The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce had a boil center on his Adam's apple and for a time could wear no collar and could hardly eat or breathe. This morning a doctor operated on him and gave him some relief. There is no exact account of where Job had his boils, but the Bible mentioned no Adam's apple as having its quota, for Job was in a position to lament very forcibly which was denied Mr. Lincoln.

STORY OF VISIT TO SUNNY SOUTH

Commander Albert Fox Gives a Detailed Story of the Visit to Vicksburg and Battle Field

BRINGS HOME A COTTON PLANT

Every Courtesy Was Shown the Old Veterans and Keen Interest in Viewing Familiar Places

Commander Albert Fox gives this story of the visit at Vicksburg, Miss., of Elias Fenstermacher, J. B. Swisher, John Zellers and himself.

We left Brainerd Saturday morning at 5:35 and arrived in Minneapolis at 10:15. Left Minneapolis at 8:30 p. m. which gave us quite a while to visit points of interest including the Soldiers Home.

We met the old boys from Brainerd, all seemed in fine spirits. The trip from there to Milwaukee was made during the night. Nothing of interest could be seen so we took our berth and had a good night's rest which prepared us for the splendid breakfast awaiting us at a first class hotel in Milwaukee at 7:00 a. m. Left Milwaukee Sunday at 9:35 a. m. Arrived in Chicago at 11 o'clock a. m. where we were taken back and forth over the yards until 2:30 p. m. We did not visit any points of interest as we did not leave the train. Here two dining cars were attached in which the meals both to and from Vicksburg were served in first class style.

The trip through Illinois was made for the greater part during daylight, only the extreme southern part being passed thru after dark. We crossed the Ohio river at Cairo at 9 o'clock p. m., Sunday the 14th. Passed through Memphis, Tenn. about 3 o'clock a. m. Monday, Oct. 15. The first stop made after daylight was at Clarksville, Miss. There we found ourselves in the land of cotton. Field after field stretched on both sides of the road interspersed here and there by fields of corn, for a distance of 150 to 200 miles. At three or four towns large sawmills were situated. The principal lumber sawed was gumtree with some cypress. Some of the logs were very large, measuring, I should think, from 3 feet to 3 1/2 feet in diameter. One thing that was noticeable was the better housing of the negro population, their evident prosperity and contentment all along the route.

One thing made the trip more enjoyable to all was the fact we were on the official train as Section A, which carried Gov. Burnquist and staff and the noted Morgan Drum Corps.

The drum corps would get off at the places where we stopped and play which drew forth cheer after cheer. They would also pass through the train playing the old familiar pieces as well as the latest patriotic pieces which helped to enliven the trip. We were cheered by crowds at every place.

Even as the train passed along negroes at work in the fields would salute us as we flew along, waving their hands which in some instances were filled with the snowy cotton they were picking. We arrived at Vicksburg Monday at 12:30 p. m. We were met at the train by bands and groups of southern veterans and were conveyed to the battlefield where the camp was located in autos previously procured by the government. About 175 autos were in service at the command of the comrades. The distance from the train to camp was between two and three miles over which we were cheered almost continuously. Not many Union veterans met us as we were the first official train to arrive.

Arriving at the camp we found a sumptuous dinner awaiting us. You can form some idea of the task incurred when you take into consideration that at the table where we ate covers were laid for 3,953 and there were three more tables as large or nearly so, situated in different places in the camp.

Quite a number of the comrades went to their tents and rested the first afternoon, while some started in to tramp over the hills and valleys to try and see something of the country in which the noted siege of Gen. Grant was laid.

A more hilly country it was never my privilege to travel over. In some places canyons a hundred or more feet deep their bottoms covered with briars and bamboo through which it would be almost an impossibility for a man to pass.

The steep hillsides (where not too steep) were cultivated in years past as you can still see the ridges where the cotton was planted. The narrower and shallow valleys are very prolific. Cotton and corn are the principal crops raised. Principally corn. In one place Elias Fenstermacher thought he would procure a large ear of corn, but when he tried to reach it he found by reaching as high as he could it was still two feet above his head. He was obliged to break down the stalk to procure the ear. I should think the stalk would measure about 15 feet high. This may seem like an exaggeration but comrades Swisher and Fenstermacher will bear me out to the statement.

The streets were laid up hill and down the same as the country. You cannot walk two blocks on level ground. I don't think there is a Masonic lodge there as they could not meet upon the level as the ground is rough and rolling.

Tuesday, Oct. 16, was given over by the comrades to locating the positions occupied by the commands in which they served during the siege, and picking up relics to bring home. One comrade picked up a shell about five inches long and three inches in diameter, which had lain there over fifty years. I also picked up two of the minute balls from the battlefield that had been fired by some one during the siege. All came in at night tired and ready for supper which was served at 5:30. Each morning at sunrise one gun was fired and the flag raised and at night the gun was again fired, the flag lowered, while the bands played the Star Spangled Banner while all stood with uncovered heads.

Wednesday, Oct. 17, was passed in about the same manner with the exception of some states dedicating monuments to their fallen heroes.

In the evening street dances in which some of the comrades participated, were given free.

Thursday Oct. 18, was the biggest day Vicksburg had ever seen as there were thousands there to view the parade which started at 10 A. M. and was as follows:

Police in uniform, Gen. Whitney and staff, 155th Inf. band, 155th Infantry, Boy Scouts, band composed of negroes, city and county officials, Civil Hospital No. 3, Ambulance Co. No. 3, Veterans in autos, band.

There were a number of negro G. A. R. men which were cheered heartily by north and south alike.

The number in the parade was estimated at 10,000. Could the people of the north have seen the hearty welcome accorded us and heard the expressions of loyalty as we did, there would not be the discontent and I may say treasonable utterances we hear here in the north where they should only have love and veneration for the flag that protects both personal and property rights.

They show more loyalty than is shown in the north. The 155th Infantry is composed of young men raised in and around Vicksburg and of course sons of those who were secessionists. As a number said, once we fought against old glory but now we are loyal to it. Some proudly said, "My son is in that regiment ready to defend it against all foes." After the parade the comrades returned to camp and began getting ready for the return trip which began at 8 P. M. There was nothing of note except the change of temperature and weather. When leaving Vicksburg the weather was bright and fair, the thermometer standing at 90 degrees in the shade and after a ride of 36 hours we landed in LaCrosse at 8 A. M., Oct. 20, in the midst of a blizzard. We arrived in Minneapolis about noon. Comrades hastened to their respective trains to embark for home.

All declared it had been one round of pleasure, as the trip was made without accident or hitch in any way.

I brought home a cotton plant which will be on exhibition in some of the windows in the business part of the city.

Free Feed for Bowery Lums.

It isn't very often that the Bowery is lucky enough to get a feed, but recently there was the lucky day. About eight o'clock, just as the street was waking up, a bakery wagon, in a frenzy to get somewhere, bumped along the thoroughfare. On the curbs on either side were seated those ragged men who, either rightly or erroneously, have reached the conclusion that they do not count, and who therefore work not. As the bounding wagon reached the rendezvous of rest its rear doors opened out came pan after pan of bread, jelly doughnuts, tarts, rolls, layer cake and biscuits. An elevated train passing above provided a clatter, which drowned the sound of the falling pans, and by the time the bakery wagon had gone a block there was not a cookie or crust remaining in the street. Down-and-outers, who have not proceeded faster than a slouch for years, were running east, west and south from the scene of the bakery wagon like bolts from the so-called blue. The driver returned to collect the pans, distributed a streetful of snappy language and drove dolefully away. And along the Bowery there was an air of contentment all day.

Uric Acid Poisoning!

The most eminent physicians recognize that uric acid stored up in the system is the cause of rheumatism, that this uric acid poison is present in the joints, muscles, or nerves. By experimenting and analysis at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute in Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Pierce discovered a combination of native remedies that he called Anuric—which drives out the uric acid from the system, and in this way the pain, swelling and inflammation subside. If you are a sufferer from rheumatism, backache, pains here or there, you can obtain Anuric at any drug store and get relief from the pains and ills brought about by uric acid; or send Dr. Pierce 10c. for trial pkg. Anuric which you will find many times more potent than lithia and eliminates uric acid as hot water melts sugar. A short trial will convince you.

Anuric is a regular insurance and lifesaver for all big meat eaters and those who deposit lime-salts in their joints. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for the liver and bowels have been favorably known for nearly 50 years.

A PROMINENT ST. PAUL WOMAN.

St. Paul, Minn.—"There is not a medicine on the market that can compare with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I was never very strong and after the birth of my little girl, about four years ago, I was in a very serious condition. I could scarcely move, I was in such a weak end state. I could not get out of my bed. I just thought I never would get well again. I began taking 'Favorite Prescription' and most heartily endorse its use."—Mrs. EDNA McCLELLAN, 28 Thompson Ave.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

ALLIES WIN IN NEW BIG DRIVE

British and French Are Successful in East Flanders Smash.

CAPTURE MANY POINTS

Heavy Casualties Inflicted Upon Germans in Attack Launched in Neighborhood of Poelcapelle, Haig Reports.

London, Oct. 23.—The official communication from Field Marshal Haig says that operations in the neighborhood of Poelcapelle and, in conjunction with the French, south of Houtholst forest, were highly successful. The whole of the objectives, including many strong points, were captured.

The British carried over valuable positions southeast of Poelcapelle beyond their objectives and further north, co-operating with the French, captured the southern defenses of Houtholst forest, besides a series of fortified farms.

The Allies are established firmly well beyond the southern boundary of the forest.

The enemy, by a strong counter attack in the vicinity of the Ypres-Staden railway, checked the British advance astride the railway, but elsewhere were unable to prevent progress. Heavy casualties were inflicted upon the Germans and 200 prisoners were captured.

British forces carried out a bombardment of the naval works at Ostend Sunday, it was officially announced yesterday.

Violent Artillery Duels.

The violent artillery duels between the French and the Germans along the Aisne section and on the Verdun front continue, but the infantry of neither side has done anything more than carry on small raiding operations.

Likewise in the Austro-Italian theater and in Macedonia, bombardments prevail almost exclusively although in the latter region the British and French troops daily are carrying out successful raids into enemy territory.

Germans Land in Esthonia.

Meanwhile the Germans have landed forces on the Esthonia coast, pressed back the Russian right wing slightly and occupied the western portion of the Werder peninsula. That a larger landing somewhere along this coast is anticipated is indicated by the statement in the Russian official communication that Russian patrol boats have been in the vicinity of the Gulf of Riga large enemy naval forces conveying transports.

NO LASTING PEACE IN SIGHT

British Premier Pays Tribute to U. S. Soldiers.

London, Oct. 23.—"There will be no peace in the world until the shrine of the war spirit of Potsdam is shattered and its priesthood is dispersed and discredited forever."

Premier Lloyd George thus spoke yesterday at a meeting at Albert Hall inaugurating a nation-wide economy campaign. His speech—the most important of the year—was marked by absolute confidence in victory, high praise for America and inspiring enthusiasm for the righteousness of the "great cause."

"Time is now on our side," said the premier. "Time once was neutral—but not since the advent of America and the failure of the German submarines."

The premier said more than twice as many German submarines were lost during the first 10 months of this year as in all of last year.

"America's participation in this conference is of inestimable advantage. America's man power is the best fighting material in the world," said the premier.

PERSHING SENDS DEATH LIST

Reports Total Casualties in Sinking of Antilles Were 67.

Washington, Oct. 23.—Sixty-seven lives were lost when the army transport Antilles was sunk by the torpedo of a German submarine. The official list of casualties cabled by General Pershing shows 67 lost, total survivors 170 and one unaccounted for.

Not All Victims Americans. The casualty list shows that all the lost were not Americans. The firemen, of whom many were probably killed by the explosion, came principally from Spain and Portugal. Some of the non-commissioned officers lost were men of foreign birth. Two of them have mothers living in Germany.

General Pershing's report throws new light on the circumstances of the attack and so far as is known neither a submarine nor a torpedo was seen.

Illinois Miners Back at Work.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 23.—The strike of the Illinois miners, called to force Fuel Administrator Garfield to announce an increase in the government price on Illinois coal, with a resultant raise in wages for the miners, is ended. All reports to the operators association indicate every mine in the central Illinois field is working. Meager reports from the southern field also indicate the walkout is at an end. The return of the miners in the central field follows a meeting yesterday at which patriotism ran high.

THIS WEEK END OF TABERNACLE

a splendid delegation of men down there. One of the most encouraging signs of this campaign is the host of splendid young men who have been working with might and main for the conversion of their companions. It is enough to gladden the eyes of Gabriel to see young men making a clear decision for a wholesome, clean, Christian life. This campaign has witnessed this significant fact and it is bound to mean a lot for the future of the church in this town.

Tomorrow noon the last of the theological lectures will be given at Odd Fellows hall. The subject of this concluding discourse will be "The Deity of Christ." Anyone who is not sure on this great and essential fundamental of faith is urged to be there. The evangelist has a "reason for the faith that is in him" and he is to give forth this reason tomorrow. Eliminate the deity of Christ from the Christian religion and you reduce it to its lowest terms. And make the religion you profess flabby, tissueless and puerile. Without a Christ who is "very God of very God" man is without a Saviour, without redemption, and lost through eternity.

Wednesday night "Popular Amusements" is to be the subject. This lecture was to have been given last Thursday night but was postponed on account of the weather. This subject will be discussed from the standpoint of the common welfare of the home, and as every parent is intensely concerned in throwing every safeguard about that sacred place he is urged to be out tomorrow night.

The people of Brainerd are open to conviction along essential lines and are willing to follow what they clearly perceive to be right and safe. Let us give the man from Kentucky his chance to be heard on an issue that concerns every home in town.
